

PROJECT / SATUS CREEK BRIDGE

Falsework towers were used to temporarily support the segments while the deck was cast and subsequent assembly of the splice sections. All photos: Washington State Department of Transportation Visual Engineering Resource Group.

Concrete colors and textures complement natural riprap slope protection.

